Final President's Ponderings

FROM JAN GODFREY

Contact Jan Godfrey president@sasiart.com.au

Here we are, almost at the end of the SASI year. Our AGM is on 21 August at 2pm in St Agnes Hall, Esk. I'm sincerely hoping that as many of you as possible can attend. I'm retiring from this position (again and for the last time!) and would love to see you for a catch up, to reminisce and to look forward, sharing ideas about our future. Things change and regenerate. That's exciting and I'd like to think that we can anticipate great things together. Thank you if you want to help us make that change!

The job of a president, as I see it, is all about uniting people, bringing them together to create great experiences and encouraging them to express ideas and then, to back them up. I always say, many heads are what's needed to develop the best ideas and to bring them to life. I have loved working together with some fantastic people to make things happen for our arts and wider community. It's so exciting! Now however, it's time for new people, new ideas. Have a go on the committee and make your own activities happen. Let's evolve, it doesn't have to stay the same.

I think one of the best things SASI got together over time was Glen Rock Gallery in Esk Visitors Information Centre. Artists were crying out for this. This happened through an agreement with Somerset Regional Council in 2014. You can read the speech that I made at the opening and appreciate the achievement that it was. \(link\)

The Somerset Bendigo Bank Art Awards were started in 2013 and have occurred biennially in 2015, 2017 and 2019, then Covid happened. It has been the premier arts event in our region and attracted artists from SE Qld and beyond. This may or may not continue in its recent form, things change, but it has been an achievement for us to be proud of.

SASI was begun in 2009 and many good people, all volunteers, have provided energy, ideas and a generosity of spirit to make great things happen for our members and our community. It has become an important part of the social fabric, educating beginning and experienced artists alike as well as helping to showcase and sell their artwork. Importantly, it enhances the well-being of its members. Prior to SASI, there was the Brisbane Valley Arts Council, who performed many of these functions, however, SASI also supports smaller art groups on a localised basis. Our sister group, Kilcoy Art Society Inc. provides brilliant support to artists there.

Thank you to all SASI members, past and present, for helping to make our arts community vibrant and diverse. Thank you to the present committee members, Nelle, Jenny, Sue H, Joanne, Ron and to our patron, Beryce, who was there at the beginning with me. Thank you to our small group leaders, Sue W, Gwen and Phil. You have been committed to providing great services to our members, often going above and beyond. The detailed newsletters will always be a treasure to remind me of the history. I'll still be around, creating many more artworks and having fun with you all.

Best wishes and happy creating!
Jan

Crossdale5

Jane Harthorn Sharon Lee Shirley Sue Jan Williams

Following the Crossdale4 exhibition at the Condensery in 2018, Crossdale5 brings you the unique combination of the major forms of artistic expression, the development of the four artists since 2018 and new work by a new artist.

Saturday 24 July to Sunday 18 September for your viewing pleasure.

These four artists share a common home environment in Crossdale. They have come from different parts of Australia as well as different countries, thus contributing to their individual styles.

Every artist expresses their own response to physical, social experiences and emotional awareness, based on individual experiences.

For this exhibition, each of the artists present a selection of works which demonstrate the intersection and overlap between their visual arts practice and their area of professional activity or concentrated interest.

The production of artwork has not simply been a methodically driven process of producing objects, it has been influenced by their real needs to express something which needs to be expressed. It is not just 'Art for arts sale's'.

In this exhibition I am presenting examples of my work in 4 mediums :

1) SCRAPERBOARD

Scraperboard originated in Britain and France in the 19th century. It became a popular medium for reproduction by letterpress because it could replace wood, metal and linoleum engraving for one colour book and newspaper printing. Scraperboard is made with a thin layer of fine Kaolin Clay sprayed onto a good quality cardboard. It comes in white on white (my preference) or black on white. It is now considered an antiquated process with the invention of computers... However, there are contemporary artists who are working with and re-discovering this creative medium.

2) DIGITAL DRAWING

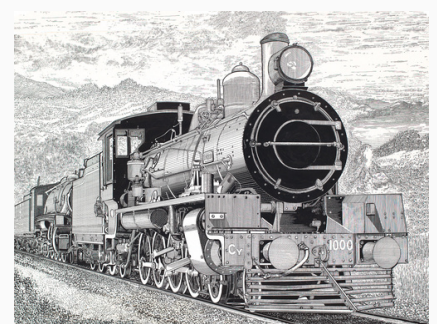

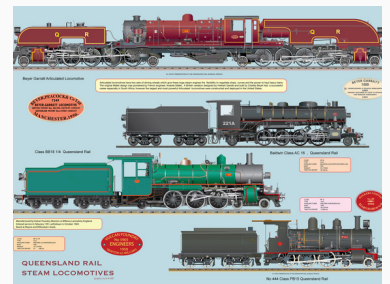

Digital drawing is created by using vector based software instead of pencil and paper. Often, the digital artist uses a tablet with either a mouse or stylus.

3) DIGITALLY ENHANCED PHOTOGRAPHY

Digitally enhanced photography requires retouching and radically altering photos. A different set of skills is required by the Graphic Artist as the image is altered to generate and translate his/her fertile imagination into a plausible rendering of the artwork.

4) PHOTOGRAPHY

Favourite subjects include macro insects and spiders where I have been able to explore the world in my own backyard.
